MASS MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

To Discuss The Proposed Charter.

Advocates of Commission Form of Government Urge All Who Oppose Plan To Meet at Court House and Offer Suggestions That Will Tend to Make Charter Better—Mr. E. J. Justice Says Work of Charter Committee Was Honestly Done and He Will Be Glad to Assist in Remedying Any Defects.

Monday night at 8 o'clock a mass meeting of Greensboro citizens will be held in the court house for the purpose of considering the new charter. Every voter in the city is urged to attend, whether he be opposed to or in favor of the commission plan. The object of the meeting is to have all defects pointed out and suggestions made that will make the charter more perfect.

Some of the most active opponents of the charter have stated that they would not attend the meeting, but it is hoped that all who are in doubt as to the advisability of adopting the charter be present and set forth their reasons for opposing the new plan. The advocates will explain any portions of the charter objected to and if anyone can suggest an amendment that will enhance the value of the plan then such suggestions will be gladly welcomed. The advocates state that they want to have the best charter possible and it was impossible to foresee every contingency that might possibly arise and they welcome, as was done at the meetings held last fall, any suggestion or criticism that will make an improvement.

Card From Mr. Justice.
"If the commission form of government is in danger, I believe that it is due to a lack of understanding of the provisions of the proposed charter, and I assume that the people will take enough interest in it to inform themselves."

"The time has come, I believe, for plain speaking as the election is to be held in just a little more than a week. I believe that it is not presumptuous for me to assume that the public will give Capt. Fry, Mr. Hood, Mr. Brandt, myself and the other gentlemen who drew the charter credit for being honest and for not having any concealed purposes in advocating the charter. If any concealed danger is in the charter I believe the people will give us credit for being ignorant of that fact. We do not claim it is perfect because we are not perfect, but it is the best we can do, and the work is honestly done at least. I don't think Capt. Fry, Mr. Hood, Mr. Brandt or the other members of the committee have done their work with a view to gain an office, and as for myself I'll enter into an agreement that I don't want any position under the city and am not actuated by the hope of getting my hand into the city treasury."

"Furthermore, we have invited criticism from every citizen in Greensboro and there have been held public meetings in which the charter has been discussed section by section and scores of changes have been made in its provisions. We did not resent, but invited, these criticisms. If Mr. Bain, Mr. Coble, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Sherrill, Mr. Brown and the other opponents of the proposed plan had appeared in these meetings I have no doubt their suggestions would have received respectful consideration, and if the crowd had agreed with them their suggestions would have been adopted. Some of these gentlemen were in the employ of the city and they owed it to the public to do what they could to put the charter in the best form. Their opposition to the entire plan upon technical grounds places them in an unfortunate position for the reason that people are questioning the motives of some of them. I venture this statement that some employee of the city who is paid for his services or somebody in the office of some employee of the city wrote Mr. Bain's and Mr. Coble's article. If they challenge this statement I will produce the proof. I do not criticize them further than I think it is fair that the public should know this fact in order to judge what weight should be attached to the article."

"Mr. Bain's and Mr. Morrison's solicitude about the schools is touching. What a blessing it would have been if Mr. J. R. Foust, Mr. J. A. Matheson, Mr. W. C.

Jackson, Mr. T. R. Foust, Mr. G. A. Grimsley, Mr. Broadhurst, Mr. W. H. Swift, and the advantage of Mr. Bain's and Mr. Morrison's views about the schools before they made up their minds to support the charter and committed themselves to it. It was not generally known that Mr. Bain was a specialist along educational lines until the Board of Aldermen discovered it and put him on the Board of Education. The people might never have discovered this, and Mr. Bain no doubt thinks that this proved a Board of Aldermen is better qualified to select officials than the people are. The same argument no doubt appeals to Mr. Sherrill and Mr. Michaux. These suggestions are fair because these gentlemen have taken particular interest in offering criticism of the charter at a time and under circumstances which indicate that they are not trying to help it but kill it.

"One suggestion Mr. Morrison made I think is a good one, and that it ought to be made mandatory on the mayor, who is to be tax collector, to give bond. I imagine the board would require him to do so anyway, and that he would not hesitate to do it, but the law ought to require it and I will see Senator Hobgood and Representative Dillard and ask them if they will not agree to see that this defect is remedied by amendment during the present session of the legislature."

"Mr. R. R. King called my attention to the fact that Sec. 70, regarding the assessment of taxes, was not entirely clear as to whether there was to be a separate assessment for city taxes. It was the purpose of the committee, I think, and I know it was mine that the assessment of county and city taxes should be the same. Mr. King said he was not sure there was any trouble about the section other than it was ambiguous and he merely made the suggestion with a view of getting it right. I agreed with Mr. King that we should change the language by an amendment by making it clear that there was to be no separate assessment and have the bill amended so as to make this perfectly clear. I hope that when this is done it will satisfy Mr. Morrison and all others in opposition because of the meaning of this section. It can be done any time during this session of the legislature, either before or after the bill is adopted. I have no doubt that our representatives will agree to see that this is done."

"The figures used by Mr. Morrison, Mr. Bain and Mr. Coble are misleading, this has already been pointed out by the papers. I want those gentlemen who are opposing the charter because they are opposed to the principle to maintain their position as long as they thing they ought to do so, but I hope that those gentlemen who oppose the charter because of omission or confusion in language will co-operate with those of us who are in favor of the charter to correct any defects. The present charter has many defects in it, but the remedy is, if the commission form of government fails, to cure the defects by amendments and this ought to be the policy with those who favor the principle of government directly by the people, which is the essential feature of the commission form of government."

HELD FOR COURT.

George W. Ackers Charged With Passing Worthless Check and Obtaining Money by False Pretense.

Before Justice Collins yesterday afternoon George W. Ackers, who claimed New York as his home, was given a hearing on the charge of passing a worthless check and with obtaining money by false pretense. He was bound over to court in a bond of $100, failing to give which he was committed to jail. Ackers represented himself as an agent for a building and loan association of New York and sold several shares of stock here, getting a payment on each share. He also obtained about $30. He gave a check for this amount on one of the Greensboro banks, but it was found that he carried no account with the bank.

He admits that he gave a worthless check, but contends that he represented the building and loan association of New York. However, one of the officials of the organization stated that this was not true.

GREENSBORO VS. DES MOINES

The Two Cities Are Compared.

Mr. Coble Argues That a Commission Plan Suited to Des Moines Would Not Be Suited to Greensboro—Thinks the Des Moines Plan Would Be Better Suited to Baltimore Than Greensboro.

Editor Telegram:

Perhaps the framers of our new charter thought that Des Moines, Iowa, was a small town, situated on Raccoon river, and about the size of Greensboro, but while I find its on that river I also find it has a population of 90,000 people and of course a commission plan suited to them would not be suited to Greensboro. It seems it would have been wiser if they had gone over into our sister State of Virginia and copied the plan of Staunton, which is in our class as a town, and where they have a mayor, board of aldermen and one commissioner, the latter being paid and the others being volunteers. Their revenues compare with ours, their plan is both cheap and efficient and by their plan the paid commissioner is supervised and checked by the aldermen. Under the Des Moines plan, which is incorporated in the new Greensboro charter, the aldermen are wiped out and there is no one left to supervise and check the three commissioners. Let's compare Des Moines and Greensboro and see if you do not conclude with me the Des Moines plan would be better suited to Baltimore than Greensboro:

The Iowa State law for Commission forms of government, under which Des Moines city is operated, has this to say under Sec. 10:

"The mayor and council shall have an office at the city hall and their total compensation shall be as follows: In cities having by the last state or national census from 25,000 to 40,000 people the annual salary of the mayor shall be $2,500 and each councilman $1,800."

The amount of salary is increased as the population is increased. It would seem that it is not expected to have this plan in towns or cities under 25,000. In defense of the framers of the new Greensboro charter it might be said that when they framed it they based the salaries on a population of 42,000 which had been officially promulgated by our Chamber of Commerce before the census returns had come in.

Tax rate of Des Moines:
School purposes 27.9 mills
City purposes 37.5 mills
County purposes 12.3 mills
State purposes 3.9 mills

Total 81.6

Thus making $81.60 on the hundred dollars valuation or $81.60 upon one thousand dollars valuation, plus the special assessments for constructing and maintaining the streets and sewers. Our rate for all purposes is $20.90 upon one thousand dollars valuation.

Des Moines spends for schools $558,000.00
Greensboro spends for schools $1,957.46
Cost per capita in Des Moines 23.25
Cost per capita in Greensboro 7.72

Cost of Police Department in Des Moines, (plus special appropriation) 86,955.00
Cost of Police Department in Greensboro 10,140.82

Cost of Fire Department in Des Moines 130,585.00
Cost Fire Department Greensboro 12,806.35

Des Moines spends for street cleaning 35,000.00
Greensboro spends for cleaning and maintaining streets 13,037.56

In Des Moines the entire cost of constructing and maintaining the streets is charged against the abutting property.

Des Moines pays for street lights of 2,000 candle power
Greensboro pays for the same lights 58.00

Des Moines pays for street lights of 32 candle power 17.04
Greensboro pays for street lights of 60 candle power 15.00

Des Moines has a mayor and four councilmen and her revenue amounts to $1,300,000.00.

Greensboro is to have a mayor and two councilmen and our revenue amounts to (including water rents) $180,000.00.

Under the new charter all the volunteers in the school board, cemetery board, water and light commission, fire

OPPOSITION TO THE NEW COUNTY

Strong Resolutions by Mass Meeting.

Court House Was Packed Yesterday With People From Every Section of Guilford—Committee, Composed of Nearly Three Hundred, Appointed to Go to Raleigh Tuesday—A Representative Gathering of Guilford Citizens.

As a result of the mass meeting of people opposed to the formation of Piedmont county in the court house yesterday strong resolutions setting forth reasons for the opposition will be carried to Raleigh Tuesday by a committee of some three hundred citizens appointed for that purpose.

The meeting was called to order at noon, the court room being crowded with representative people from every section of the county. Even High Point township had a fair representation, some of the town's most prominent citizens being present to add their voice to the protest against the cutting aloof of the township from Guilford. Not a voice was heard in favor of the new county, everyone being agreed that the county lines should remain as at present.

Col. James T. Morehead was chosen as chairman of the meeting and Mr. J. A. Hoskins secretary. Mr. J. N. Wilson stated the object of the meeting. A committee composed of Messrs. J. H. Smith, J. N. Wilson and O. L. Sapp was appointed to draft resolutions setting forth the purpose of the meeting in brief form. The following resolutions were recommended and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That we, citizens representing every section of Guilford county, in mass meeting assembled, desire to enter our most solemn protest against the proposed dismemberment of Guilford county by the creation of the proposed county of Piedmont out of a part of Guilford."

"That we endorse all that has been said in the resolution opposing the same by the Guilford county bar living in Greensboro, the county commissioners, the county board of education, the Farmers' Union and the board of directors of the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce, and earnestly hope that what has been said in opposition thereto by the organizations aforesaid will be thoroughly considered by the General Assembly of North Carolina before an act is passed creating such new county."

"That in our opinion there is absolutely no reason to warrant such action on the part of the General Assembly and such action would be unwise and unfair to one of the most progressive counties in the state. The location and equipment of the present court house, the symmetry of the county and its townships, the splendid county roads and the railroads, the accessibility of the court house to every citizen in Guilford county, the financial condition of the county, its educational interest and its splendid and wonderful growth during the past ten years, all, it seems to us should appeal most strongly to the pride and patriotism of the members of the General Assembly and convince them of the utter uselessness of such action."

"We, therefore, instruct our representatives in the General Assembly to use every legitimate means in their power to defeat this proposition and further appeal to the General Assembly, as a whole, not to dismember the county of Guilford."

A motion was adopted, instructing the county commissioners and the board of education to go to Raleigh Tuesday, together with about three hundred citizens, appointed as a committee by the meeting, to argue against the establishment of the county. The committee of three hundred is composed of people from each of the eighteen townships in the county and is composed of some of the most prominent people in the county.

Prof. T. R. Foust presented a map for the inspection of the audience, the map showing just how the division would affect the schools of the county. Prof. Foust pointed out the disadvantages schools along the proposed county lines would incur and especially Jamestown High School. Prof. Foust was instructed to take the map to Raleigh and explain the situation before the legislative committees.

Dr. J. R. Gordon, who has spent some time in Raleigh during the past two weeks, spoke of the strong fight being made by the new county advocates and predicted that a strong fight would have to be made by the opposition if the proposition was defeated. He felt sure, he said, that if this was done the members of the legislature would down any proposition to dismember the county.

Mr. Robert Brockett, of High Point, made a strong plea for the committees appointed to be in Raleigh and defeat the issue. He said that he was looked upon in High Point as a traitor, but he was doing his duty as he saw it and the dismemberment of the county would do untold harm in High Point, despite statements to the contrary. He said all his business interests were in High Point and he wanted to do what was best for the people of that city.

THE JOINT DISCUSSION

Mr. Bain Tells Why He Doesn't Favor It.

The appended letter, which explains itself, has been handed The Telegram for publication:

Mr. L. J. Brandt, City.
Dear Sir:—Replying to your favor of the 26th, beg to say that so far as I am personally concerned I cannot see any advantage to be derived from a joint discussion of the proposed charter. I think that our people are of sufficient intelligence to study the bill for themselves, once the objectionable features are called to their attention, as has been done in the papers.

My only purpose in having articles published in the newspapers, as the articles themselves show, was to call the attention of the voters to the fact that it would be well to read the charter before voting, and to direct their attention to some features of it that may not work well. That the suggestion has been well taken is shown by the fact that many calls have been made for copies of the charter in the last three days.

I do not represent any class of opponents to the bill, but am simply speaking for myself when I decline the invitation to a joint discussion; if others care to do so, it is for them to do so. Your suggestion that the newspapers are not the best place to discuss the matter is hardly consistent with your conduct in the premises.

Very truly yours,
E. E. BAIN.

MR. BROADHURST ON NEW CHARTER

Every Voter Should Read it, he Says.

And Then Judge For Himself the Merits and Demerits—Some Timely Observations Carefully Set Forth In Nature of Answer to the Criticisms That Have Been Published Regarding Commission Plan.

To the Voters of Greensboro:

The final result of all legislation of public interest is necessarily the result of compromise, experiment, and amendment. The most ardent advocates of the commission form of government do not claim every virtue for the proposed new charter, but they do claim that the proposed new charter as it stands, with any alleged defects, pointed out by honest critics, would be a great improvement on what we have now; and by way of amendment (by this Legislature if need be) it could be perfected and made to better conform to the needs of Greensboro than its charter, which does not conform at all to our needs. The commission form of government is good. The experience of every city that has tried it makes us sure of our contentions that the plan is good. Experience here in Greensboro alone would direct those of us who may ask for amendments in the future. The mayor's bond and other amendments could be fixed by the present legislature. The proposed new charter is the result of patient, pains-taking study on the part of public-spirited men who personally would not lose employment by its passage, neither would they gain employment should the people see fit not to accept the proposed new charter. So, I take it, that no honest critic who has even read the proposed charter would wilfully misrepresent the motives of honest advocates of the commission form of government as provided for in the new charter, subject to amendment. As to the hired critic whose reason and only cause for criticism, either just or unjust, is to be found in his pocket in the shape of a fee, I have no objection to his criticism of motive, and no defense to his misstatement of the printed facts relative to the charter, which misstatement is due, no doubt, to his oversight and his zeal to serve his client. I have unbounded faith in the ability of the people to size up the situation when once they get the facts in hand. I am furthermore of the opinion that the people of Greensboro are not as easily misled by those who deliberately make misstatements as those who make the statements might suppose. Time before election is short, but I am furthermore persuaded that there are very few people in Greensboro who could not read the proposed charter one time, and from that one reading be able to answer some of the alleged objections and published criticisms. I do not pretend to know all about the charter. My time to study the matter has been limited, and I may make errors in construing its provisions, therefore with some temerity I submit the following observations and answers to certain published criticisms of the new charter.

In the first place, the tax rate would not be raised, for it is now and has been for some time at the top notch. If it could have been raised during the past few years no doubt it would have been raised. It has been $1.30. It is now $1.30. And under the new charter will remain $1.30. The poll under present charter is $3.50. Under the new, it would be $3.00.

Second. The new charter is not a scheme to advance the interests of the Chamber of Commerce, as alleged by some of its critics, for under the present charter the aldermen appropriate something like $500 to the Chamber of Commerce each year, and by the same authority they could appropriate $10,000; whereas the new charter does not appropriate one cent to the Chamber of Commerce. But it does limit (a thing the present charter does not) any future appropriation for advertising Greensboro including the Chamber of Commerce, and this was copied from Judge Shaw's draft of a proposed commission form of government presented by Judge Shaw and others in 1909, so that under no circumstances could the Board of Commissioners in their discretion appropriate more than $2,500, for by the new charter they would be forbidden to give more than $2,500 under any circumstances. CRITICISM IS AGAINST SYSTEM

And Not Against Office Holders.

So Writes Mr. R. C. Hood Who Says He Has No City Job and Does Not Want One—Men Who Drew Charter Did Not Do Work Overnight, But It Was Voted on by Piecemeal at Public Meetings.

I have no city job, have you?
I don't want a city job, do you?
I have no friends to put in a city job, have you?

I don't care a continental who has a city job so long as he does his full and conscientious duty. But I do have an interest in the welfare and prosperity of Greensboro and for this reason was willing to contribute my mite toward framing the new charter, believing the present cumbersome, antiquated, irresponsible system to be what I reckon might well be termed rotten.

And in this connection would like to say that those gentlemen who drew the new charter made a thorough study of modern forms of municipal government and wrote in the new plan those ideas which had been proven to be most successful in practice and which provides for the Board of Commissioners to meet daily, thus enabling a citizen to go before those in authority at any time, and for every act of the Commissioners to be performed in the broad light of public observation.

Then in order to have suggestions and helpful criticism from any citizen they held a number of open meetings at the Court House and urged every one to attend, and the various features were discussed and voted on, but during all the meetings and discussion I do not remember hearing from any of the most worthy and influential gentlemen who are now trying to fill the public mind full of what I believe to be false ideas.

Several times lately they have been urged to join in calling another public meeting at the courthouse where any questions can be propounded, but thus far they have not agreed to do so, and evidently are afraid of an open, free, frank and intelligent handling of the matter. The men who drew and approved of the new charter had nothing but the highest and most unselfish motives and are representative of the type who have caused not only Greensboro but North Carolina to make such advances as have been made, and they are not men who oppose or favor any plan or man for trivial or selfish reasons. They do not care what man gets into office just so he does his full duty. They have no candidates or pets, but a true and high regard for the interests of Greensboro.

They are, however, tired of seeing our city poorly lighted, our streets and schools in bad condition, and our business affairs improperly handled.

There is no special criticism against individual office holders but against a system which does not demand the best services which the officials are capable of rendering. For instance, why should Mr. Sherrill be paid as much for collecting the city taxes which evidently consumes about one-fourth of his time as the new charter provides shall be paid to the Mayor-Commissioner who will not only look after the tax collections, but will also look after the collection of water rents and have charge of the purchasing department of the city, which department will buy whatever is needed for any department on the best basis, instead of the present slipshod, hap-hazard manner, and he will also have charge of the accounting departments and will do anything else that may be assigned to him.

I believe we can get more work and better work for what we are paying my friend Sherrill and others. Of course there is naturally some squealing when the pig is stuck, but we need the pork.

The Aldermen, the School Commissioners, the Street Commissioners and other of the city officials who work for nothing will, I am certain, admit that they are doing anything like as well for the city as if the "could give more time" to its affairs, but they simply cannot afford to do so. They must attend to their own business first, and necessarily give their best service to it. It is not easy to get something of value for nothing. Josh Billings said that when you could get a man to work for nothing and board himself he was likely to be worth just about what you were paying him.

The proposed charter was not produced overnight but was handled by a committee of seven and then submitted piecemeal to a committee of twenty one honorable and intelligent citizens, representing practically every line of business in Greensboro and then it was thrown open for discussion and criticism by anyone who was interested enough to come to the courthouse and many came and took part and helped to improve it. The names of those who first had charge of it are as follows:

J. W. Fry, W. E. Allen, J. T. J. Battle, J. L. Foust, E. P. Wharton, C. H. Ireland, R. C. Hood, David Stern, Neil Ellington, E. J. Justice, Melton Clark, O. C. W. Syong, Andrew Joyner, J. J. Stone, A. B. Kimball, J. M. Hendrix, D. R. Huffines, C. A. Bray, J. W. Cone, C. D. Benbow, E. J. Stafford, L. J. Brandt, M. W. Sterne, W. H. Swift.

And I believe the voters will show their faith by adopting the improved system of Government, even though it be over the protest of those gentlemen who have been kind enough to come out at the eleventh hour and show their interest in the welfare of a few individuals rather than in the whole city.

I would like to ask, in closing, the following questions:

1. Do you believe that our school buildings are good enough?
2. Do you believe our streets are as good as they can be?
3. Do you believe that we have wasted a great big pile of the city's money by poor business methods?
4. Do you believe the highest official efficiency has been obtained?
5. Can you get at the city officials when you want improvements made in the city?
6. Can you at present fix any direct responsibility on any one official for anything?
7. Have you sense enough to name your chief official or do you think a Board of Aldermen has more sense than all the people? If so, may God have mercy on the people.

R. C. HOOD.

Since the above was placed in type Mr. Sherrill has stated to the writer that he receives about $2,600 per annum but has to pay out of this amount postage, clerk hire, etc. He also states that he has considerably increased the revenue from license taxes and I am only too glad to make this statement for him.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. THE VIEW OF A LABOR MAN

Labor Organizations of Des Moines Like Commission Government—No Where Have Commissioners Failed to Live Up to Responsibilities.

Asheville Citizen.

It has been argued that to confer executive and legislative powers upon the commissioners, as provided by the charters for commission government, would be thrusting responsibilities too great upon untried men, but the very fact that such responsibilities are conferred puts the men upon their mettle, prompting them to give the best that is in them to the service of their city. These responsibilities have nowhere yet been found too great for the men who have held them in the various cities of the United States which have adopted the commission form of government, a fact clearly demonstrated by the manner in which commission-governed cities stay with and hold to the new form of government.

In his exhaustive treatise on commission government, Mr. J. K. Hamilton, speaking of his investigation into the workings of the commission plan in the ninety-six cities of the United States says: "There is no variation in the character of the reports—everywhere system takes the place of chaos, promptness for hopeless procrastination, lower for higher tax levies and better value for the public outlays."

"But back of all these causes for congratulation, and rising above every other consideration, the student of the new charter discovers that which explains the wonderful vigor and vitality of the whole movement and accounts for a popular favor out of all proportion to any financial results recorded at Galveston or Des Moines, or in any other city operating under the new plan, or all of them combined. It is the reconciliation of the citizen and his city; the new birth of his faith in it and in himself as a factor in its public life; the revival of his hopes for the republic as a thing that is not to languish and die from the toxins evolved within itself, but is to go on for unreckoned ages, playing a good part in the drama of national life."

"Thus, that which most commends the commission plan of municipal government is the optimism it brings back into our municipal politics; the new anchorage it affords for the democracy which is conquering the world, but can rule it only so long as it believes in itself."

Mr. L. D. Pouchot, secretary of the Des Moines Federation of Labor, in a signed statement to The Champaign, Ill., Daily Gazette, declared that after three years' trial of the commission plan in Des Moines, more than 75 per cent of organized labor in that city would vote against returning to the old aldermanic system if the choice were left to it. "Organized labor has fared well," he declared, "under the commission form of government in the way of appointments, increased wages and the eight-hour day for city work. The taxpayer," continues Secretary Pouchot, "has received nearer dollar for dollar in the way of improvements for taxes paid than ever before. As for good government, the commission plan is far superior to the old ward system. Furthermore, all classes of citizens have more of an equal show. Why? Because the commissioners are elected by all of the voters of the city, and they are directly responsible to them."

Representative Ewart has introduced in the House a bill to amend the anti-trust law so as to give it "teeth." May they not be false ones.

Dr. Cook asserts again that he is "frank to admit" that no one knows whether he or Mr. Peary or any other person ever reached the Pole. But by this time it doesn't interest the people either way, since the question has had nothing to do with the price of a steak.

And now Strauss' new opera, "The Rose Cavalier," has been barred from the Royal Opera House, by no less a critic than the Kaiser himself. Strauss' other notable opera, "Salome," was recently pronounced unfit for Chicago opera houses, and has met with a similar fate in other cities. The music of his operas is considered as of the very highest class, but he has a bold and defiant way of introducing female characters, the roles, acting, and costumes (or lack of costumes) of whom are considered by some to be suggestive and entirely too base for the best health of public morality.

CUT-TARIFF AGREEMENT.

President Taft has sent a message to Congress urging the ratification of a reciprocity treaty with Canada, under which agreement there will be practically free-trade relations between the two countries, so far as food stuffs are concerned. The President believes that placing on the free list wheat and other grains, dairy products, fresh fruits and vegetables, fish, eggs, poultry, cattle, sheep and other live animals; and by mutual reduced rates on fresh meats, canned goods, bacon and hams, flour, cereal preparations and partly manufactured food stuffs we shall be assured of a reduction in the cost of living, in that the supply will be increased because of Canada's unlimited supply of many of these products and because an obstructing and prohibitory tariff will be removed. The duties on many other products, such as print paper and wood pulp, coal and iron ore, will be materially reduced.

This movement for free trade and tariff reduction is the result of negotiations entered into between Canada and the United States less than a year ago, and the treaty proposition was laid simultaneously before the Congress of the United States and the Canadian Parliament at Ottawa.

The President urged that the matter be taken up and disposed of during the present session of Congress; but members see that by having the question referred to a committee that will keep it in abeyance until Congress adjourns, there will be a chance of getting an extra session of Congress, when the whole matter of tariff revision may be taken up. In the Senate Vice President Sherman referred the message to the Committee on Finance, the committee that framed the Aldrich-Payne tariff bill, in the belief that it would be kept safely concealed until Congress adjourns. No one, either in the House or the Senate, seems to want to tackle the measure at this session, and the regular stand-patters are determined to kill it if it does come up for discussion.

At present we sell the Canadians two-thirds of all the goods they buy. We sell to South America about 18 per cent. of their purchases. It is hoped that free-trade and reduced tariff will increase our sales to Canada to 80 or 85 per cent. Why not enter into reciprocity negotiations with the big republics of our other next-door neighbor, South America?

FRAMERS OF THE NEW CHARTER WANT TO DO WHAT IS BEST FOR THE CITY.

It is to be said to the credit of the gentlemen responsible for the proposed new city charter that they have been open to conviction and that where the opponents of the document have, even at the last minute, pointed out unsatisfactory details they have shown a willingness to make those details conform to the ideas of the critics when those ideas seemed sound.

For instance, there is the section as to the assessing of taxes. It happens, so we are informed, that the section was lifted bodily out of the charter drawn by City Attorney Shaw two years ago and approved by the then Board of Aldermen. But to remove all possibility of misconception, this section will be amended so as to make it clear that the commissioners are not to assess property for taxation.

Again, as to the "unbonded tax collecting mayor," referred to by Mr. Morrison. We are informed that the framers of the charter took it for granted that the Commissioners, sitting as a board, would not allow any one to handle the city's funds without a bond. But in order completely to meet this objection, so The Telegram learns, gladly have the charter amended so as to require therein a bond of the tax collecting mayor.

It seems to us that the framers of the charter have maintained an attitude throughout that clearly entitles them to the confidence of the people. As we have just shown they have not claimed the charter was perfect, but have welcomed discussion and criticism with the view of getting it as nearly perfect as possible before finally submitting it to the electorate.

Furthermore, in what they have had to say they have come out boldly over their own names, whereas it is common knowledge that the men who are fighting the charter do so in the main over the names of other people while they themselves remain carefully secreted behind the scenes.

FINGERS CUT OFF BY ENGINE WHEEL

Yesterday morning at 4 o'clock at the round house, Samuel Walker, son of Night Foreman Walker of the Southern Railway round house, had all four fingers of one of his hands cut off at the knuckles by the wheel of an engine.

Dr. E. R. Michaux, Southern Railway surgeon, was sent for and had the young man removed to St. Leo's hospital. There the mangled hand was dressed after which young Walker was taken to his home on Gregory street.

A part of the young man's duties is to keep the oil cups of the engines filled. He was engaged upon this task when a hostler, who did not know he was there, moved his engine, causing a wheel to pass over the fingers of the young oiler.

The Latest Skirt.

"At present," says Woman's Home Companion for February, "it is the skirt upon which all eyes are centered. The hobble skirt now belongs, of course, to the long, long ago. Is its successor the very scant, very plain, very straight skirt, going to soon follow in its footsteps? That is the big vital question of the moment. One thing at least is apparent. Skirts are losing their plumpness. They are growing a bit wider, too, but as to their straight-up-and-downness, that still prevails.

"One of Drecoll's latest tailored suits points plainly to the fact that skirts are changing. The costume is of cheviot and the skirt made, even though it is a tailored skirt, with a band-trimmed tunic. The underskirt is gored, while the scant circular tunic is trimmed with a band of self-fabric.

"The coat, which is a box model, closes rather high at the neck, which is a decidedly new change."

commission, street commission, etc., are to be given an honorable discharge and every other person in the service of the city, save the library trustees, are to be on a salary basis—in other words to be an army of picked and paid men.

How will this army look? One major-general, two brigadier-generals, six privates and a wagon load of commissary supplies.

But the plan! If we can just get the plan everything else will be added unto us.

The error the framers of our charter fell into (chopping a little out of first one charter and then another in the cities of Iowa) in not having a bond for tax collector was from the fact that those charters had none. In that State and in Des Moines the city taxes, as well as the county taxes, are collected by the county authorities.

The commission plan (Des Moines' charter) is contrary to our genius of state and federal government and is wrong in principle. It concentrates in the hands of a small board the judicial, legislative and executive functions. It places in the hands of this board the power to levy and collect taxes and to spend the same. There is no check. But it is the tendency of the times. It is the "new nationalism." One article in Mr. Roosevelt's "New Nationalism" is "an impatience of legislative restraints on the executive." The fellows who spend the money want a loose rein.

In reply to this idea of autocratic power the advocates of this new Greensboro charter say that the initiative, referendum and recall are the panacea.

But let us see how the strings have worked. In Los Angeles, California, and Haverhill, Mass., the defeated candidate has used it to get another chance to win the office by having a new trial. Again, in the case of a corporation franchise, such as a street railway, which goes to the popular vote, as a matter of course, without petition, we have high authority against it. Judge Lindsey, of Denver, Colo., a man of national reputation on account of his connection with the Juvenile court, has stated that in Denver it cost that city $10,000,000. The city government inserted provisions in the street railway franchise highly favorable to the company because the city government felt the responsibility rested not on it, but on the people. The government could not be blamed, if the people adopted the franchise nor even if they rejected it. The franchise was adopted after a campaign which Judge Lindsey says was a disgrace to Denver. The people in the mass were unable to inform themselves concerning the complicated provisions of a corporation franchise, while corporation money and the use of able speakers did the rest.

These few lines from "Life" are in point:

THE REFERENDUM.

"Let the people speak," the reformer said, "the only antidote for the poison of corruption is the people's eye or nay." But the Bosses mixed the issues ere the people came to vote.

"Till you couldn't tell to save you what the people meant to say."

the new charter the power to appropriate to the Chamber of Commerce would be limited. By the present charter the authority, (if any there be), seems to be unlimited except by the whim of the aldermen and the lack of funds in hand.

Third: The people can be relied upon to select good men as commissioners who will consider it their duty to attend to the city's business while they draw the salaries paid them for their time and energies, even at election times. If the people should be fooled and led into electing some fellow as mayor and tax collector who really ought to devote his time to politics, the error under the proposed new charter could be corrected by recalling such inefficient officer and making him run for office again, or withdraw and allow the people to put in another man in his place. Under the present charter the people have no remedy and no power of recall to protect them against unintentional election errors on their part, and against incompetency, inefficiency, dishonesty and corruption on the part of the "pot" politician who was enabled to fool the people on election day, but was not able to fool the people thereafter and conceal his unfitness for public trust.

Fourth: The initiative and referendum feature is practically an absolute guarantee against the passage of ordinances by the Board of Commissioners that would not be acceptable to the majority of the people of Greensboro. For instance, suppose those of our people who oppose near beer saloons should decide to "initiate" certain legislation that would do away with the sale of near beer in Greensboro. They could meet; agree upon an ordinance, and demand its immediate passage by the Board of Commissioners who would meet every day, and not, as now provided, once every two weeks or once every week. The Board of Commissioners would, under the new charter, be forced to pass the ordinance initiated and proposed by the citizens within twenty days, or under the new charter they would be forced to refer the passage of the ordinance to an election, provided a properly certified petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the qualified registered voters be presented to the board. By such an arrangement the proposed or initiated ordinance would be put to the people, and they, I take it, would have judgment and intelligence enough to decide whether the proposed ordinance ought to become a law. Under the proposed charter the aldermen are almost "a law unto themselves." The present board of aldermen can pass such ordinances as they may see fit to pass, even though they be the only men in town who desire the passage of such ordinances, within the limits of their authority, and the fellows who elected them must wait two years or less before they can recall the aldermen and send others to take their places, who may, through press of private business, fail to do what they were elected to do. And so it goes.

I leave it to the humblest citizen of Greensboro as to which plan, the proposed charter or the present charter, brings the government back to him—back to the people—and tends to keep it there where it belongs, and dispenses with the services of the ward politician whose hostility to the proposed new charter was expected.

Fifth: As a believer in prohibition I am satisfied that the new charter, because of the initiative and referendum feature above referred to, safe-guards South Greensboro—North Greensboro—all Greensboro, for there is no sectional idea or ward idea in the new charter—against the alleged evils suggested by Mr. Morrison because of his fear that South Greensboro might at some time have a bar room by permission of the Board of Commissioners; certainly the whole city is thus safe-guarded against such a proposition on the part of the Board of Commissioners so long as we have our present State prohibition law, or so long as we have a majority prohibition vote in the city that could and would demand that any offensive ordinances relative to near beer, whiskey or other intoxicants be referred to the people before their passage. The prohibitionist has never before had such an opportunity to further safeguard himself against the return of saloons of any kind. But I am not arguing as a prohibitionist, but as a citizen of Greensboro, and see no reason for bringing in the question of prohibition.

Sixth: There seems to be very little difference between the old and the new charter as to the authority of aldermen and commissioners to hire clerks, etc. The city must have clerks, it has them now, and various other employees. Both charters confer authority to employ help. So to me it seems unfair to argue that the commissioners under the new charter would do worse or hire more help—more expensive help—than the aldermen in the past have done. The commissioners have no power to employ clerks to do anything except those things that they cannot do after giving all of their time.

Seventh: I am informed that Mr. Sergeant draws a salary of $2,400 a year. I grant readily that he earns every dollar of his salary and more, if he did not he would be a burden to the city. His salary, however, is the same as the salary of the commissioner of public works under the proposed new charter. I am also informed that the tax collector, Mr. Sherrill, is paid a salary in commissions that amounts to about $2,000 or more, and I grant readily that he would earn every dollar of that amount if he would do what the new charter requires of the mayor. His salary amounts to more than the salary of the commissioner of public accounts and finances (The Mayor) under the proposed new charter.

Under our present charter the mayor is paid a salary of $250.00 and the treasurer a salary of $200.00. As to other salaries now paid I am not informed but it seems that the sum total is not very far short of the sum total of all the salaries of the three commissioners under the new charter. And I feel that the purchasing agent (the mayor) of the city (whoever he may be, I am not interested in that, so he does his duty) would save more than the mayor's salary by giving more attention to the duties of his job.

For a city of Greensboro's size to buy its supplies on the retail market is none other than an advertisement of the inefficiency and want of the present charter.

The foregoing is written with respect for the honest convictions of Mr. Coble, Mr. Bain, and Mr. Morrison, whose published criticisms and objections to the new charter I hope will cause every man in the city to read and judge for himself the merits and demerits of the commission form of government. I impute no bad motive to them. I think they are honestly in error; and that upon the whole, the proposed charter as it is now submitted to the people, subject to amendment if need be, is by far superior to our present charter, which few people (officers not excluded) ever read. In fact, reading and studying the present charter has been more or less the work of the city attorney, whose duty it has been to advise the aldermen in legal matters. The new charter which brings the people and their government close together, gives the humblest individual citizens a right to vote for directly and to deal directly with the fellow he puts in office, is a document, the provisions of which ought to be studied and discussed and not misrepresented by office holders and others interested from a financial viewpoint, and voted down without careful consideration by the individual citizen who holds no office, but has a right to demand a better form of city government than we now have.

There are many kinds of guaranteed hosiery but they are all imitations of the original "Holeproof."

When your husband goes out to buy socks, tell him to insist on "Holeproof"—tell him to look on the toes for our trademark.

This means more than you think—it means that if any holes appear within six months we give you new hosiery free.

But that is not all, the hosiery itself is more stylish and comfortable than any other on the market.

FAMOUS

NO EYES FOR THE ELEPHANTS.

Busy Times Square Hardly Vouchsafes a Glance at Passing Show. New York Times.

Four African elephants, huge and ponderous, each decked with a gaudy yellow blanket, swung across Broadway at Fortieth street at noon yesterday. Each grasped in his curved trunk the tail of the elephant just preceding him, and the foremost thrust his trunk slyly into the pocket of the troop's keeper, who marched with conscious pride in the van. But of all the hurrying midday crowd at Times Square and the Only Way scarcely a single person turned his eyes even for a moment curiously upon the sight. Circus day, apparently, is no longer an event in this town.

"Changing ideals!" mournfully blinked the first elephant, on whose brow sat the wrinkles of fully a century and a half.

"Not a look for us!" impatiently twitched the eloquent ear of the second elephant.

The third cast angry little eyes to either side and seemed determined to "start something."

The fourth, smarting under the utter ignoring of himself and his brethren, whirled aloft his whiplike trunk and seemed on the point of startling the street with an angry trumpeting.

Just then a little taxicab bowed down Broadway and uttered a weakly raucous "toot!" The startled elephants fled toward the freight yards near the river.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mary C. Abbott, Wolfeboro, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with a bad case of rheumatism, due to uric acid that my kidneys failed to clear out of my blood. I was so lame in my feet, joints, and back that it was agony for me to step. I used Foley's Kidney Pills for three days when I was able to get up and move about and the pains were all gone. This great change in condition I owe to Foley's Kidney Pills and recommend them to anyone suffering as I have." Howard Gardner.

Unfortunately the weather prophet is not always a storm scenter.

DIDN'T LIKE BRITISH GUIANA.

Party of Bostonians Had Dull Time in Southern Waters. New York Sun.

A party of Massachusetts folk who got back yesterday from a 29-day cruise to the West Indies and the British Guiana did not enjoy the latter. According to William S. Draper, a banker, the main attractions were negroes, flies and dirt. Mr. Draper added that he understood there were some fleas.

The new arrivals asked eagerly about the result of the Senatorial election in Massachusetts when they reached the Belmont, and were so overjoyed about the success of Senator Lodge that they forgot all about the discomforts of Demerara in the knowledge that the dignity of their Commonwealth was safe. Mr. Draper said that they had suffered from a dearth of American news during the voyage, the only kind obtainable when they touched the insular ports being about what Parliament was expected to do. The only American item, he said, concerned the closing of the Carnegie Trust Company.

She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." Home protection is true wisdom. Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve ought to be in every home for its quick relief and prevention of two dangerous diseases and the more common ailments such as Colds, Catarrh, Burns and Chaps.

The above is a picture of R. H. Morse, who is traveling through the State in the interest of a home for the needy old women of North Carolina to stand as a monument to the women of the Confederacy. He thinks a home of this sort would be a vastly more suitable monument to the women of the Confederacy than a monument. In addition to his work for the old women's home, Mr. Morse is conducting a campaign of street preaching against the sale of beer. For thirty years he has been traveling from place to place preaching against immorality of all forms.

LONDON POST FOR LODGE?

Massachusetts Paper Says President Taft Will Give Senator the Ambassadorship.

Worcester, (Mass.) Dispatch in New York Times.

The Worcester Evening Post has received the following dispatch from its Washington correspondent:

"The Worcester Evening Post may state today on what is regarded as the very best authority that United States Senator Cabot Lodge, recently re-elected and as he himself believes, vindicated before the people, will shortly resign his seat and accept an appointment from President William Howard Taft as Ambassador to England.

"The Post's informant said that it would not be surprising any day now to hear of the appointment being sent by Mr. Taft to the Senate for confirmation.

"It is a well-known fact that Senator Lodge, having seen 18 years of service in the upper branch of Congress, desires to round out his career in the diplomatic service and that he has long cherished the idea of being sent to the Court of St. James.

"His apparent gratification over his recent re-election, somewhat surprising because of the narrow margin which he won, his closest friends say, was due to the fact that he regarded it as a clear vindication of his acts in the past and that with that vindication he could fittingly continue in public life.

"President Taft is known to regard Senator Lodge, as others do, as one of the ablest men in the land, and one who because of his peculiar qualities should become most eminent in the diplomatic service. That Senator Lodge will receive his appointment soon and resign his seat is regarded as logical, because in case of a vacancy in the Massachusetts delegation before the end of the present Congress a new election by the State Legislature would be in order.

"If the Senator should prolong his term beyond the time of adjournment of Congress, say until June, Gov. Eugene N. Foss would have the power to appoint a successor ad interim. And naturally it is not supposed that Mr. Lodge would be agreeable to placing that power in his hands."

Solves a Deep Mystery.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c. at Farris-Klutzn Drug Co.

It is evident to the most casual observer that the woman who sets the styles must have a grudge against her sex.

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:

"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used 1-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you succeed. 520 Laura avenue."

Slightly More Serious.

"How did you come to say 'yes' when the Baron Fuchsch proposed for your daughter's hand?"

"I don't understand these foreign very well," answered Mr. Comroe. "I didn't know he was proposing marriage. I thought he was asking me out to lunch."—Washington Star.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a tablespoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Where He Drew the Line.

Thomas was an old gamekeeper on Sir Greville's Scotch estate, says Sir William Kennedy in "Sport in the Navy." When he was sixty years old he contracted measles and was very ill for a time. Sir Greville, with characteristic kindness, sent the old man some hothouse grapes and a pineapple. The next time the two met Sir Greville asked Thomas how he liked the fruit.

"Well, Sir Greville," answered the gamekeeper, "the plums was good, but I dinna think much of the turnip."

RAILROAD TELEGRAPHERS

HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Danville Division Number Fifty Nine Had Royal Feast At Clegg Last Night.

The first annual banquet of Danville Division, No. 59, Order of Railroad Telegraphers, was held at Hotel Clegg last evening, fifty of the telegraphers being present to participate. The occasion was one of true enjoyment to all present.

Mr. R. W. Duncan was toastmaster and numerous toasts were responded to by the men from the several stations along the division. The principal address was by Mr. H. G. Alexander, whose topic was "Advantages of Co-operative Organization to the Railroads and the Public." He was heard with much interest.

The committee on arrangements, Messrs. G. W. Baxter, chairman; D. G. Whitfield and R. C. Pender, had arranged everything in true style, the menu being printed like a regular train order with the dots and dashes so familiar to the men who flash orders to trainmen over the wires. The menu was marked 31 which meant copy (eat) everything on sheet.

Translated the menu read: The O. R. T. will run with right of track to celery, olives, mixed pickles; take siding for fried oysters; wait for quail on toast; then proceed to cheese and crackers, and meet cream and cake; stop at tank for coffee. Carry full tonnage and fire up with cigars.

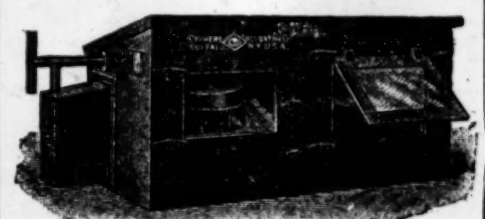

The menu was served by Mr. McIntosh, of the Clegg, in admirable style, he having been an old telegrapher and was thus enabled to read the order without any delay that might have caused a head on collision by a mishap in following the order.

After the banquet the members repaired to the hall where the regular meeting was held.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR TRIANGULAR DEBATE

Between Greensboro, Raleigh and Charlotte Have Been Completed—Contest About First of April—The Query.

Arrangements have at last been completed by the three principals for a triangular debate between the Raleigh, Charlotte and Greensboro High Schools. The query was decided yesterday and is "Resolved that the Federal government should levy a graduated tax on incomes, barring constitutional objections."

The preliminary debate to select Greensboro's representatives will be held in four weeks. The final engagement will take place about the first of April.

Last spring Greensboro High School carried through the idea of a triangular debate and on the same night retired victorious from her contests with Raleigh and Durham.

As in last year's contests the home debaters will uphold the affirmative side of the question. Greensboro's two debaters will meet Charlotte here, while at the same time Greensboro and Raleigh will contest in the Capital City, and Raleigh and Charlotte at the latter place.

Excitement runs high over these debates and the rivalry is strong between these three representative North Carolina High Schools. The debating societies have been hard at work during the past term and with this practice, although Charlotte's strength is unknown and Raleigh is planning a fitting revenge for her defeat of last year, the Greensboro boys are determined if possible to repeat their great triumph.

COURSE FINISHED

Mission Class Completes Study of Advance in the Antilles—The Sunrise Kingdom.

The young people of West Market Street church have just finished a most delightful and instructive study of "The Advance in the Antilles." Cuba, the "pearl of the Antilles," has made wonderful strides towards civilization in the past fifteen years and the advance in Porto Rico, the "paradise island" is just as wonderful. Dr. G. W. Whitsett was the leader of this class and he made the subject most interesting.

Next Monday night a class of twenty two members is to take up Sunrise in the Sunrise Kingdom, a history of that charming little people, the Japanese. Dr. J. H. Wheeler will be the leader of this class that is to study that beautiful land of the cherry blossom and chrysanthemum.

The person who enrolls in this course of mission study finds himself broader in every way. He not only gains a clearer knowledge of the geography and history of the country but his heart goes out in real brotherly love to the people of that country.

"We do not even know how to pray for a people of whom we know nothing. But when we learn to love a people then we are going to pray for them, and when we pray for them we are going to give to them of our money, our time, yea of our very selves," says the missionary.

May this course in mission study result in the thrusting forth of laborers into the vineyard.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Donaldson wish to thank their friends for the many kindnesses and the sympathy shown them during the illness and death of their little child and to assure them of their grateful appreciation of same.

Second Degree to Be Conferred.

Next Tuesday night Greensboro Lodge, No. 164, I. O. O. F. will confer the second degree on two candidates. All members are requested to be present. Proximity Lodge will be with us and assist in work.
